

Collaborators

Romain Radwan

Information Manager

Romain holds a Bachelor in Business Administration at the Business School of Lausanne. He pursued a professional tennis career, reaching ATP 1000 in the world and representing Syria in the Davis Cup for the past three years.

After having completed his internship at Covalence, Romain Radwan joined the company as Information Manager in 2010. Romain looks after the data gathering and coding process, supervising the work of ethical information analysts.

